Wellesley, Massachusetts

March 4th 1914.

Mommy dear,

Do you know why to-day is the most commanding day in the year? It is - March fourth!

I have been doing little to-day but study for a quiz in German 9. It is only a one hour course.

that is, comes once a week; it is called the history of the German Language, but I don't like it and I fear I haven't learned an over amount in it.

Betty's letter came this morning; she usually writes once a week, sometimes more often, - she surely is pretty good to me. My letters come in streaks - this week has been fine so far - a letter from Betty, one from Helen, from Bertha, Billy, and Harold.

With so many letters I feel as if I were quite keeping up to the times.

This is "lamb, peas, and sherbet" night. but we may not get the sherbet, for Mrs.
Eastman is going to have a grand dinner party for all the celebs on Friday night and we'll probably have ice cream then. it would be be good for us to have it too often!
